

Senior university travels

Round top festival hill

Saturday, February 26, 2011 11 am – 8 pm

Surround yourself with fine craftsmanship and beautiful music!

The elaborately carved woodwork throughout the Festival Institute's three-level concert hall enhances not only the venue's beauty, but also its acoustics.

—Texas Highways May 2010

The hall has been described as "a temple to music".

Lunch in Carmine at JW's Steakhouse and onto Festival Hill for the afternoon performance + a tour of the Hall!

Texas Medical Center Orchestra

Established in 2000, Texas Medical Center Orchestra is one of very few community orchestras in the world with its origin in health professionals. It includes physicians, nurses, dentists, medical students, biomedical scientists, social workers dedicated to music as well as their daily careers.

Program: Wagner: Die Meistersinger von Numberg Overture
Chopin: Piano Concerto no. 2 Beethoven: Symphony no. 5
Abbey Simon, Pianist (described as one of the last great romantics)

$82

Includes motor coach, lunch, performance, hall tour and gratuities.

Refreshments. Hosted by Babs and George Cape

Reservations: admin@senior-u.org phone 819-7680

Once confirmed, Mail checks to P.O. Box 488, 78627

<http://festivalhilltour.org/> www.senioruniversitygeorgetown.org

<http://www.texashighways.com/index.php/component/content/article/46-prairies-and-lakes/6103-round-top-setting-the-stage>